English Lutheran church meets this evening at the residence of Mrs. J. L. Dietrich on Commercial street.

Marriage licenses have been issued to J. D.

Owens of Council Bluffs and Arvilla Davis of Richmond, Ia., to John Chaffin and Edison Smart, both of Omaha.

It is reported that the special police who stood around and watched the police in order to keep them from running away last Tuesday will run up against a large snag when they attempt to collect their pay. About half of the entire number failed to qualify as they were compelled to go by law before taking out their stars and the city officials claim that there is considerable doubt as to whether the city can be made to pay them their wages.

A colored couple presented themselves at the office of Justice Hammer yesterday afternoon to be united in matrimony. After being asked how they had come to the justice's hall, which proved to be an excellent fit, and made out of the door, leaving his own battered tie for the justice to ward off pneumonia with. After the man and the hat had been seen a little while, Hammer discovered what had happened and issued a warrant for the man. The man who took it had a narrow escape from being fined for contempt.

The members of the Union Depot company commenced an action in the district court yesterday to have the affairs of the Union Depot company wound up. The plaintiffs in the action are John Churchill, William Evans,

J. D. Edmundson, E. E. Hart, J. F. Evans,

H. C. Evans, C. R. Tyler, L. W. Tuley,

Leonard Everett, S. P. MacConnell, Max

Mohr, David Bradley &amp; Sons, John Beno,

G. S. Meyer, C. Stuart, E. H. Shaefer, Casper &amp; McDaniel, D. W. Bushnell, W. H.

Thomas, W. H. Van Brunt and William Silentpoff, while F. J. Day and the various railways running into the city are made defendants. The petition recites that George F. Wright and W. H. M. Pusey, as trustees for the company, bought of Mr. Day four lots and took the title without the knowledge of the company or its directors. Day afterwards brought an action to recover the purchase price,

Result of the Election in Pettawattamie

Surprising to Many.

LIST OF THE SUCCESSFUL CANDIDATES

Fortune Favored the Republicans in the Judicial and Congressional Districts —Exact Standing of the Parties Not Yet Known.

Now that election is over the republicans have been trying, with the aid of the scopes, to find out what the redeeming features of the result are. The republicans of Council Bluffs and Pettawattamie county have come to the conclusion that the most satisfactory thing about it is that it was no worse. The returns are in from all over the county and show that the democratic ticket gets a small majority—one of the smallest, in fact, that it has ever had in the county. In two cases it was a minus quantity and the republican nominees were elected, also by a small majority. Fortune favored the republicans in the judicial and congressional districts and Judge May and A. L. Hager were elected by large majorities over Fremont, Benjamin and Judge J. E. McGehee.

In the township the republicans were also victorious, although no figures were given by the judges when they gave the exact standing of the candidates. The official count will be necessary to determine the majorities.

John P. Organ, the democratic candidate for county clerk, lost in Audubon. He was elected in the city, where a strong levee was brought to bear against him by reason of his being a catholic, but this deficiency was made up for by his record in the past, especially in the last end of the county, and when all returns were in he was found to have a majority of 19.

The same kind of a fight was made on County Clerk Campbell on account of his refusal to discharge his deputy, who is also connected with the same church, but his majority was 300.

The democratic majority on the head of the ticket was smaller by far than it has been for eight years. Five years ago the majority was 287, but this year it was cut down to 100, which, in a county where the majority was 100, was small enough to make things decidedly interesting. The candidates of both parties spent almost the entire day at the office of the county auditor waiting for the returns, which were not interest and showing plainly that they realize that no one had any positive check on anything.

The slight majority of the democrats was overcome by John M. Matthews, candidate for office of county recorder, who was elected by a majority of 50. William M. Sheppard, republican candidate for recorder, was also elected by a majority of 60. Both of these results were extremely uncertain all day long, and the fight was not finally given up by O. H. Marsh and S. D. Roberts, the democratic candidates, until nearly 5 o'clock.

Judge May, candidate for district judge, was elected by a vast majority over his democratic opponent. He received a majority of 330 votes over Fremont Benjamin, and although all the returns have not yet come in, his majority is not expected to be less than 400. Benjamin conducted one of the hottest campaigns ever witnessed in the district for the recorder's office, and his record in the past was quite a surprise party to his friends, who had led to believe that his election was as certain as anything could be in politics. Judge May's majority was not secured by a landslide, but was simply the expression of the confidence the republicans and democrats of the district have in his honesty and integrity. Reports from Cass and Mills counties are to the effect that he received 800 majority over Benjamin in the first round and 100 in the second.

Senator A. L. Hager is elected to congress beyond any doubt. Judge McGehee, the democratic candidate, ran somewhat behind his party, but he pulled up fairly well in the outside districts. The town of Atlantic, in Cass county, gave him 44 votes to Hager's 54. Hager's majority in the district, it is thought, will be about 2,500.

The democrats put in a good share of the day and all of the night in jubilation over their victory in the election. The night light procession was formed and marched around the postoffice three times, with the town horns blowing and drums beating, but the winds of fortune refused to fall and let the victors get in after the spoils.

INVITATION TO TEACHERS.

Sixth Semi-Annual Meeting of the Superintendents' Round Table.

The Sixth semi-annual session of the Superintendents' Round Table of southwestern Iowa will open in Council Bluffs at 3 p. m. on Friday. This association is composed of leading school men and women of southwestern Iowa and its purpose is professional improvement. At the approaching session the following questions will be discussed:

"The Value of School Exhibits," "Why Is

Good Reading Almost a Lost Art?" "How

Shall We Teach Spelling?" "Recs or No

Recs?" "For What Purpose, If Any,

Should Pupils Be Detained After the Close of School?" "Superintendents' Visits, Their Character, Aims and Objects," "The Blackboard, Its Use and Abuse," "Are Schools of the District of the Day?" "What Shall Be the Requirements for Admission to the High School?" "How to Make Recitations in Order to Do Justice to the Pupil and Hasten the Learning of Unconquered Work."

Many of these are practical school room problems, and a rare opportunity is here afforded the teachers of Council Bluffs and Pettawattamie county to hear an interchange of views on these and kindred topics from men and women of many years of successful experience in educational work. All are cordially invited to attend the meeting and to participate in discussions. The session opens in the superintendent's office, Hosmer building, at 3 p. m. Friday and continues till 3 p. m. The evening session begins in the superior court room at the court house at 7:30, and continues until 9 when a reception will be given in the parlors of the Grand. All teachers of the city and others in attendance are invited to the reception.

The morning and afternoon sessions Saturday.

A DREADFUL SCOURGE.

The Case of Mr. Palmer, Pneumonia Carried Him Off Suddenly—Everyone Should Know the Symptoms and Be on Guard.

Mr. Wm. R. Palmer, of New York City, left a circle of friends one afternoon recently and received their congratulations upon his bright and vigorous appearance. That evening he felt tired and took a slight nap across the couch, which was his usual habit. He awoke the next day with his head aching and his throat sore. He called for a glass of water and found it impossible to swallow. He was in bed with physicians watching his breath and pulse throughout the day and the next day he was dead from pneumonia, which he failed to take in time.

There are ten thousand men and women in America today in the same condition as Mr. Palmer when leaving his friends, but they do not know it.

The slightest appearance of the symptoms above named should strike terror to any man or woman.

A sudden chill means the beginning of pneumonia; aches and pains throughout the body are the first symptoms. It is necessary to bring about a reaction at once. How, then, is the best way of bringing about a reaction? Ask any physician and he will tell you to use pure whiskey. No matter how
